MERICAN employers should adopt a more indicators. A policy with respect to the employment of foreign its firms one of the fundamental principles of our basic factors and its the right of employers the lime who make the property is true one of the fundamental principles of our basic principle.

American labor should be protested against foreign labor as well.

We have no right to be surprised at unrest among American born laborers if we persist in discriminating against them in order to swell profits when at the same time the discrimination results is bringing into this country wast burdes of aliens whose only embition is to exploit this country and sventually to overthrow it.

The men who have to furnish the capital for our great industrial enterprises and who have to do the planning, the paneering and meet the payrolls and assume all of the responsibilities of management, certainly ought to have all of the protection against foreign competition that can be given to them consistently. And one of the best assurances of ultimate and continued success to their enterprises would be to recricit future immigrations so that they may have the least possible amount of unamerican material to deal with in their labor turnover.

Sometimes the employers, in their efforts to make guickes immediate profits, have overlooked this fact. And right now there is a move on fout to make provision for the ingress of large numbers of fereigners who will work for less money than American laborers require. If the more succeed, it will prove to be a mistake. If the logical results of such a movement eccurs we will have no end of labor troubles, for that legical result will be unemployment among Americans, riots, bread lines and possibly an industrial was that would not only deprive labor of its hard was rights, but disrupt the entire industrial system of the country, which the employant least of all could afford.

A LOT of authors kill our laughs, and bore all gentle readers, by finishing of hooks for me, this allly affectation, and when a "leadered" page I see I'm of hooks for me, this allly affectation, and when a "leadered" page I see I'm filled with indignation. They say the Waipole books are great, they boots his "Secret City"; but me they chafe and irritate, inspiring this punk allity. His sentences all disappear in leaders running tableon; and if I had some stale eggs meat, to Weipole I would hand 'em. O'er books I sever am enthined however apt their phrases, if in them fly speck lines are used, white words are cheap as blance. If do not think the writer rice (I grieve to make confession) who has to use a detted line to help out an impression. The strategens of writing hicks oft make me shrink and shiver; no author need resort to tricks, who can the goods deliver.
